“A”

A&P Store, the ... The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Store was represented in Woodsville as early as 1906 with door-to-door sales. Around 1914 the company opened a store in the Lovejoy Block, 107-111 Central Street. This building later became Tuck's press. Lovejoy opened a meat market which he later sold to Bill Hartwell. It became Siprelle's Photo studio in later years.

In 1919 the A&P moved to the Pillsbury (Bitteringer) Block, near the steel bridge, the western end of Central street. In 1925 the store moved to the Henderson Block and then to the Weeks Block, corner of Central and Pleasant streets where the Laconia Savings Bank is presently located.

The Weeks block burned December 5th, 1961, and the A&P store had moved into a new building at 0 Central Street, the former location of Bailey Buick Garage in January of 1961. After the A&P closed the space was taken over by Clarkies Grocery store. Others took over such as Kelley's Foodland, and Riverview Grocery store, which closed in 2008 and the building is vacant (2009). The old Riverview Grocery building is under renovations and is going to reopen as Modern Furniture. It is owned by the Abbott brothers who also have furniture stores in Vermont. In 2010 the Modern Furniture store is open and the Abbotts have also purchased the "Way We Were" outlet store on rt. 10 which will operate as a factory outlet store.

 Natalie Abbott May 9th, 1906 Death in August of 1979

 William Abbott, born in New Hampshire [Bath?] in 1808, was Woodsville's first resident. His wife was believed to be Mary A. Abbott born in New Hampshire in 1813. His house, on the crest of Cheney Hill, is proclaimed by most to be the first house ever built in Woodsville. The Abbott's children in 1850 were ... Julia Abbott age 14, Eunice Abbott age 12, Ellen Abbott age 7, Solon Abbott age 5, and Oren S. Abbott age 2. Also living with the Abbott's was John Brown, born in Vermont in 1824.

It later became the farm house for the King family. The farm itself was just South of where Cheney Hill intersects with South Court Street. (Later known as the Jimmy Rowe farm)

There were no farm houses near the barn until later years when houses were built for both of the King brothers. The walking route from the house to the farm would most likely have been ... left (South) from the house, around Park's Corner to the top of Cheney Hill.

There were steps from Cheney hill, probably just a path in the beginning, that went down the grassy side-hill to the field in back of what is now the farmhouse. In the early 1800's this path would have lead directly to the barn. The Abbott house considered the first house in Woodsville. In later years there was a path from the Davison home at the foot of the High School stairs, on King street, down over the embankment to the barn! In the book "HECK", written by the four daughters of Charles Davison and step sisters to the honorable Harold K. Davison. The girls wrote individual chapters in the book about their lives. They mention having to go down the steep path, in the dark of night, to get daily milk.

Acer Lumber Company ... Charles H. Grant. president and Ronald E. Curtis, treasurer of Acer Lumber Company, at 72 Smith Street. This was the location of a former cheese factory which was taken over by D. S. Stone as a Saw Mill.

WOODSVILLE, NH HISTORY

Angier ...

Dr. John Angier was born in Fitzwilliam, NH in 1784. 1827 was the year the Cobleigh Stand was built as the doctors home. Dr. John Angier first practiced medicine in Alstead, NH before moving to Maine for a short period of time. Cobleigh Tavern, or the Stagecoach Inn as it was earlier called, became the Cottage Hospital.

Dr. John Angier then moved back to Alstead before moving to what would later be known as Cobleigh Stand, or Cobleigh tavern, on River Road in Woodsville. (The old Cottage hospital)

It is reported that Dr. Angier was an excellent physician during his 50 year life. Unfortunately the doctor was killed after being thrown from his buggy while he was on a short trip to Weathersfield, Vt.

Bittingers History of Haverhill, 1888, describes Dr. Angier as a look alike for General Jackson. Dr. Angier was in the state legislature and was mistaken for Jackson when the president and visiting in Concord.

Amos Kimball purchased what was known as the Atkinson Farm on January 27th, 1795. He bought it from George King Sparhawk and later, (4-23-1827) sold it to John Angier. Angier was a doctor and the old cottage hospital building was built for Dr. Angier in 1827. The doctor was killed after being thrown from his buggy in 1836. Records show Dr. Angier sold the Atkinson farm the same day he purchased it!

The land was later known as Wallace Hill and is now Hastings Hill. Angier sold the farm to Dudley C. Kimball. It is likely only a part of the farm was sold because Dr. Angier later sold the farm, or part of it, to Francis D. Kimball on January 8th, 1828. Kimball sold it back to Angier a day later! And, Dr. Angier then sold it to Windsor Cobleigh on April 9th, 1838. Go to the "H" file (Hastings) for the complete sale history of this property.

WOODSVILLE, NH HISTORY

 Rose Annis, Miss, of Passumpsic, was engaged to succeed Miss Holmes as a grammar school teacher, in Woodsville. Miss Annis took over more than half the unruly pupils from the former room and with plenty of tact and a strong will, organized a model grammar school with three grades. Her arrival at the time had much to do with Mr. Robertson's success. Miss Annis was a woman of rare intelligence, well versed in the technique of teaching and I think many of the local grandparents of 1853 will agree that she had discipline strange as it may seem. She had neither normal school training nor a finished academic work course. She made full use of the talent God gave her.
